A LESSON IN POLITICS.

The reports from Washington rather indicate that that aggressive republican editor and intensely bitter partisan, Murat Halstead, will not attend the German court as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States.

The Gazette has several times in the course of the past few years taken occasion to condemn the bitterness of Mr. Halstead's personalities. He is a very able man, but he is merciless in his attacks, not only on his political enemies, but likewise on his own party friends who sometimes take issue with him on political questions. When his spirit of animosity rises in him, he never spares a friend or foe, and never uses common discretion in assailing human character. He lost himself in prejudice and was overcome by hate when he assailed Lincoln and Grant years ago; and recently he had a set-to with certain republican senators who did not vote just as he wanted them to when the question of investigating the election of Senator Payne came up for consideration. Halstead's reference to the republicans who did not want to go into the investigation were very uncomplimentary, in fact was a gross outrage, But only a few months passed away, and the tables have been turned, Mr. Halstead then had his fun in thrashing republican senators with his pen, now the republican senators have their fun in mortifying Halstead with their votes against him.

Mr. Halstead is one of these unrighteous men who will not permit, if he can help it, anybody to differ with him. This is why he has taken occasion to call Senator Sawyer "Old Sawlogs," and why he called Senator Teller a thief, or using a term meaning the same thing. He has spent much of his life in abusing good men and harshly criticising others for not bowing to the will of Murat Halstead. It is no wonder, then, that there are republican senators who want to defend their manhood by voting against his confirmation.

Senator Sherman, to be sure, defends Halstead, not his darts of malice or shafts of envy, but his fitness for the German mission. He pleads for the mercy of the senators, but forgot that when the senators wanted simple justice from Halstead the Ohio editor had neither justice nor mercy to bestow upon the senators whom he was trying to defame and crush with "ghoulism glee."

This is an important political lesson for Mr. Halstead. A man who engages in the crucifixion of character, must not be suprised nor disappointed if he thereby crucifies his political ambition. Eye for any eye is not good politics neither is it good religion, but in the sermon delivered by the most compassionate and merciful being that ever lived, we read, "Judge not, that ye be not judged. For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged." That is a pretty old saying, but it is just as true and just as righteous now as it was when the great sermon was delivered. An editor who goes into the wholesale business of abuse, must expect to reap what he sows.

Governor Hoard made a speech at the Farmers' Institute at Waukesha on Thursday on the farmer or a citizen. Among the many good things he said, were these, reported in a paragraph of the proceedings:

Gov. Hoard then reviewed to some extent the work of the Farmers' institutes, from the beginning of any organized effort to better the farmers' condition in this state, down to the present time, showing the great advancement made in agricultural matters, the improved opportunities of making money which have been brought to the notice of farmers of this state, and above all, the great moral and intellectual improvements which are going on in the minds of the people. The population of Wisconsin is, he said, 70 per cent. foreign born. There are 40,006 more foreign-born than native born voters in the state. This is a point worthy of deep thought. It should lead to a condition of affairs which will cause the people of every nationality to feel that they are more American than anything else; it should lead to making the country schools the colleges of the country, where all the children of all the farms and all nationalities are educated, taught to think and to understand the grandest things that men can know, that among all good thoughts none are more worthy of their attention than nobility of manhood and the munificence of the American government.

In some of Governor Hoard's speeches among farmers will be found the finest tributes ever paid to the country school. No scholar or statesman has ever surpassed their beauty.

In Senator "Hod" Taylor's final speech on his railway bill in the senate the other day—a speech that was well prepared and delivered—he closed with a paragraph beautiful in sentiment and stirring in language, and which is well worth repeating even three days after its delivery:

The opponents of this bill deprecate agitation. They want peace and harmony. Why, sir, every child at his mischief and every criminal at his crime wants peace. The evil doers and workers of injustice everywhere only desire to be let alone. Agitation is the most beneficent of agencies. In nature and in society, in government and in business, it is agitation that brings reform and safety. There is but one sea in all the world whose waves are never breaking on the shore—it is the dead sea. Its waters are forever still, and there you find stagnation, disease and death. It is after the storm, the bellowing thunder and the forked lightning's flash that comes the pure air, the sunshine and the song of birds.

Even the opponents of the bill give Senator Taylor credit of making a strong speech, and everybody will appreciate the beauty of the paragraph the Gazette reproduces.

The men who always see mischief in what Mr. Blaine does, have made a wonderful discovery. They have found out that Patrick Egan, nominated for the Chilian mission, is not only not a citizen of the United States, but has been in this country only eighteen months. This will be crushing news to the department of state at Washington. Of course his appointment is charged to Blaine who wants to honor the Irish republicans. This charge is all right, and the nomination of Egan was a fit one the be made. It may be that the democrats know more about Mr. Egan's citizenship than he does himself, but he considers himself an American citizen, votes the republican ticket as every good citizen should do, and has been in the United States going on seven years.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, a democratic newspaper, makes this mention of some of Harrison's opportunities: "Harrison seems to be avoiding at least one of Cleveland's mistakes. He does not appear to consider himself in danger whenever the editor of a party paper comes within speaking distance of him, and he is not afraid to appoint one to a foreign mission heretofore reserved for prominent party bosses." Cleveland seems to be afraid of his party editors. But the trouble was the democratic editors could not discover a warm side in Cleveland.

The condition of the 1,500 prisoners in Sing Sing, suffering enforced idleness, becomes more and more serious and pitiable. Insanity must of necessity increase. Walking is the sole diversion—walking in file is horrible monotony. At the present rate in the development of insane cases there will be seventeen or eighteen cases this year. There are 300 men each night troubled with insomania. This is the result of surrendering to the labor agitators who demand for the abolition of the control system in prisons.

The Chicago Tribune is much disappointed at Halstead's defeat in the senate. He thinks the senators ought to be magnanimous. So they ought. But what about Halstead being magnanimous? Isn't magnanimity in an editor just as much desired as magnanimity in a senator? The Tribune must not hold that the best way to secure a man's, friendship and support is to knock him down without cause. That is not manliness neither is it scripture.

The trouble between the St. Paul and the Northwestern railways and the G. A. R. relative to passenger rates during the national encampment at Milwaukee, has been properly adjusted. The railways have backed down as they usually do, and have agreed to charge only one fare. This will keep the national encampment at Milwaukee and will likewise promote harmony between the companies and the veterans.

There are fair prospects that ex-Senator Palmer, of Michigan, and wife, will be able to keep house at the Spanish court without much danger of being pressed for want of funds. He is worth four millions, and she seven millions, and there are no children.

Judge Mann, of Milwaukee, says he is neither a democrat nor a republican. A man who has no political party is as unfortunate as Edward Everett Hale's Philip Nolan.

It is quite suprising to the democrats, that Mr. Blaine, who has been secretary of state nearly four weeks, has not kicked up a rumpus with some foreign power.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Whitelaw Reid's nom de plume when writing to the Cincinnati Gazette as its war correspondent, was "Agate," and he won his spurs for the character of his work at Shiloh and Gettysburg.

The Rev. Sam Small wants to be a statesman and with the statesmen stand. He will be an independent candidate for congress in the Fifth Georgia District with the expectation of securing republican support.

Jo Howard in the New York Star: "The Clevelands are tired out. Grover has gone south for a rest, and why persecute Mrs. Cleveland? Why call attention to her trembling under lip? She's all right. She's a terribly disappointed, heart-broken woman. Don't parade her, don't call attention to everything she does. She has American grit, and in time will face everybody, lip or no lip."

President Harrison, according to the Washington Capital, holds family prayers in the white house every morning. At 7:30 o'clock the family assembles in the library, where Gen. Harrison reads a chapter in the bible, which he explains in a few words. The Lord's Prayer is then repeated by the entire family, and the exercises end. It has always been the custom for the Harrisons to have morning family worship, and their occupancy of the white house will not interrupt the custom.

Mr. James G. Blaine appears to be doing quite well, thank you. A tourist from Washington reports: "I was walking up Fifteenth street a few afternoons since, when I saw right in front of me a gentleman whose appearance I thought was familiar. He was walking with a firm, decided step, his shoulders well thrown back, and everything about him indicated a healthy, well-satisfied man. It was Mr. Blaine. His eyes are clear, his complexion good, although he is somewhat pale, and he is beyond doubt fully equal to the responsibilities of his high office."

Do what you can when you cannot do what you would.

THE CASUALTY RECORD.

SEVERAL ILLINOIS TOWNS DEVASTATED.

Ashton, Jacksonville, and Cuba Visited by Devouring Flames—Blaze in Scranton, Pa.—Other Mishaps.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Though the boats of the Conserva, which have brought into Stapleton, Staten Island, and Cape May, N. J., by pilot-boats yesterday, would seem to be conclusive evidence that a serious accident had befallen that vessel, they are by no means conclusive proof that she is not still afloat. Her owner, Mr. Kunhardt, is almost positive that his steamer is now either on her way to her destination or has already reached it. The firm of Kunhardt & Co. declares that it does not even expect to hear from the Conserva until Saturday, for the trip down there would take seven days with fair weather. As the boats lay on her main deck it is believed a heavy sea might have swept them over her bulwarks. With the exception of these boats, there has been nothing found which certainly belonged to the Conserva. Seafaring men think that if there was a collision the Conserva, with her great protection of armor, would have survived it, unless she was in an unseaworthy condition, a statement which Mr. Kunhardt positively denies.

Was She the Wrecked Conserva?

LEWES, Del., March 29.—The British brig Sunshine, from Parshaiba, reports that on March 19 she passed, 150 miles northeast of Cape Hatteras, a large vessel about 200 feet long (a ship or steamer), bottom up, copper painted, evidently a recent wreck. A smashed head, water butts, and broken oars were near. The weather was too rough to examine her.

FIRE HAVOC AT ASHTON, ILL.

Twenty-One Business Places and Several Dwellings Burned.

DIXON, Ill., March 29.—A fire which originated in a defective flue in the postoffice at Ashton Thursday morning burned down twenty-one business houses and several dwellings, with their contents. The loss is fully $60,000 and the insurance is light.

The town is without means of quenching fires, and fanned by a strong wind the fire soon got beyond the control of the people. Dixon and Rochelle answered appeals for help by sending each one fire company, who stayed the fire at 2 p. m. But four business places remain in the village. The principal business houses destroyed were the Ashton bank, the American house, Bodoy Brothers' clothing store, Charter's drug store, Earl's grocery, Glenn & Co.'s dry goods store, Brown & Co.'s clothing store, Bothe's livery stable, Smith's book store, Bellie's restaurant, Delaney's saloon, and Becker's mill and elevator.

Fire at Jacksonville, Ill.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., March 29.—Early this morning the large livery and sale stable of Thompson & Springer, in this city, was burned, together with fifty head of horses and mules and a large quantity of hay and grain. The barn and contents were a total loss, amounting to nearly $40,000; insurance, 25,000. The senior partner is now in Chicago with a car-load of horses. The origin of the fire is a mystery, though Mr. Springer is sure it is the work of some incendiary.

A Girl Burned to Death.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 29.—The house of Elder E. S. Greene was burned to the ground last night and Ida Greene, 14 years old, granddaughter of E. S. Greene, was burned to death. The fire is supposed to have started in her room, as she was in the habit of keeping the gas burning all night. There were four other inmates, who escaped unhurt, though unable to save anything. A few charred fragments was all that was found of the girl.

Fatal Results of a Runaway.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Rudolph Deuben, a teamster employed at 310 Dearborn street, was feeding his horse this noon in the rear of the above number when it took fright and ran away. At the corner of Van Buren street and Fourth avenue the wagon attached to the horse struck Ed Smith of 601 West Van Buren street and fatally injured him. He was taken to the county hospital in a dying condition.

Two Mill Hands Killed.

BIG RAPIDS, Mich., March 29.—This morning a jointer in Morgan's shingle mill at Hungerford burst, instantly killing Edward Stuart. His brother Charlie was also so terribly injured that he died in a few minutes.

Took Poison by Mistake.

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 29.—Editor J. E. Duncan and wife of the Ayres Intelligencer took Thursday a dose of belladonna, supposing it to be dandelions, and at last reports both were in a critical condition.

A Blaze at Cuba, Ill.

PEORIA, Ill., March 29.—Fire at Cuba, at 1 o'clock this morning, burned Harmison's drug store and other wooden buildings. The loss is $12,000; insurance, $8,000. Origin unknown.

POISONOUS GASES.

Terrible Fate of the Members of Three Families.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 29.—The funerals of the Rev. Samuel Calkins and his son Bradley took place yesterday at East Pembroke and the double funeral of their wives is appointed for this afternoon.

These deaths, and, counting those of Deacon Smith and his son-in-law, who lived opposite the Calkins house, makes nine deaths from poisonous gases arising from a mass of decaying vegetable matter in the cellar of the Calkins house. Intense excitement existed here on account of illness and deaths in the afflicted families, and they were regarded as very mysterious until the cause was discovered.

Catholics Object to Woman Suffrage.

DETROIT, Mich., March 29.—Since the approval of the bill permitting women to vote at school elections in Michigan many of the more prominent Catholics and several of the local clergy of that church have been suggesting that the end of the propaganda for female suffrage in school election would be a repetition of the famous Boston school war. None of the women's candidates are Catholics this year. To-day's Michigan Catholic says: "Conceal it as they may, the purpose is to keep Catholics off the school board and to keep Catholic teachers out of the public schools; in fact, to make the public schools practically Protestant schools."

Bill Nye Recovering Rapidly.

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 29.—Edgar W. Nye ("Bill Nye"), who has been sick at this place has so far recovered as to be able to continue his journey next week. His condition has not been so serious as reported.

News About Town.

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs is making some remarkable cures with people who are troubled with Coughs, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Any druggist will give you a trial bottle free of cost. It is guaranteed to cure. The large bottles are 50 cents and $1.

Advice to Mothers.

MRS WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25c a bottle.

THE WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE.

A Delegation of the Minnesota Legislature Visits Madison.

Many Important Bills Concurred in the Two Houses.

Special to the Gazette.

MADISON, March 29th.—Legislature received a visit this morning from Lieut Governor, and six senators form Minn, and both houses took a recess to shake hands with the visitors.

The senate passed a bill providing that in taking school census, inmates of charitable or reformatory institutions shall not be included.

Bills concurred in:

Appropriating to Juneau county proceeds of sales of swamp land.

Authorizing the erection of a dam across the Wisconsin river in Portage county.

Requiring that costs of maintaining roads and streets and any damages arising therefrom be born by the town and village in proportion to assessed value of property of such town and village.

Authorizing toll road corporations to operate street railway or lease for that purpose.

Authorizing towns, villages and cities to acquire title to toll roads Requiring fire escapes on buildings used as lodge-halls and club-rooms.

Giving villages jurisdiction over roads.

Regulating terms circuit court and punishing abandonment families.

In assembly large number members asked leave of absence till Wednesday, and Ring made motion to adjourn till that time which was strongly protested by McElroy, Mead and Bailey, resolution laid over till to-night.

Favorable report was made by Milwaukee delegation on McElroy's jury bill.

When senate bill came up giving one per cent. corporation license fee to university for mechanical department, there was sharp debate. McMullen considered department a play house for wealthy men's sons and said he never heard of it's doing any good. Mead spoke in favor of the bill, and showed the department to be a practical one. McElroy, Ring, Yenton and Whalen also supported the bill, and it was finally concurred in, 71 to 11.

Assembly took up substitute bill for co-employe legislation. It provides that railway companies shall be responsible for negligence of train dispatchers, telegraph operators, superintendents, yard-masters, conductors, engineers and switch and signal men. Damages not to exceed four thousand dollars. Buchanan made a strong railroad speech and Winans spoke in favor of original bill, saying: Employes would rather have no legislation than substitute and offered original bill as amended to substitute. Anderson opposed this and offered to amend by striking out $4,000 clause. Anderson said Winans charged that substitute was asked by railways and his belief was that railway employes wanted Winans bill or nothing was a mistake. Curtis said one-tenth of the people of the state lived from railways, and companies had never founded hospitals for old worn out employes. He believed putting employes on same footing with passengers. Keogh thought the substitute no good; was in favor of the original bill. Winans' amendment was lost; Anderson's substituted. The bill was then ordered to a third reading.

SOME POINTS OF ETIQUET.

Don't cool your coffee in the finger bowl.

Take your naps at home and your wife to church.

When at the table don't scratch your head with your fork.

Chew your food thoroughly before swallowing. This applies particularly to gum.

A gentleman should remove his hat before entering the hall, but not necessarily his false teeth.

A gentleman should raise his hat on meeting a lady friend, but not necessarily his eyebrows.

Don't break your engagements; and unless you know just about what is best to say don't break a silence.

It is indelicate to ask a lady if she paints, but you may inquire if she is a devotee of the pallet and easel.

It is not considered good form to gnaw popped corn off the cob. It is better to cut it off with a knife before eating.

Girls should not whistle, but custom sanctions their puckering their lips occasionally when alone with their beaux.

It is considered neither courteous nor safe for a man to attempt to warm his hands by holding them over the head of a red-haired girl.

TO THE PUBLIC

I have just completed at great expense, one of the celebrated JACKSON DRY COLD STORAGE HOUSES. When I commenced the building I expected to use the entire space myself, but other business will take my time until July 1st. I have decided to rent this season one-half the capacity of the building, represented by 9 compartments, each capable of holding 250 cases of 30 dozen each. I am satisfied that an investment of $850—$100 storage charges and 7500 dozen eggs at 10 cents will pay at least 75 per cent. net on the investment. The building contains over 600 tons of ice, which will maintain a temperature of 35 to 37 degrees during the warmest weather. Below find testimonials from houses using the Jackson Dry Cold Storage:

Kent, Ohio, Oct. 17th, 1888.
THE JACKSON REFRIGERATOR CO., CHICAGO, ILL.
Gentlemen: Having had in constant use to the past two seasons one of your Cold Storage Houses we wish to say that it has given entire satisfaction. Its preserving powers are perfect and in no instance have we met with loss of stock stored in it its most commendable features being the good circulation and entire freedom from moisture and dampness; no evidence of sweating having been perceived, the ceilings and side walls always being dry. We can cheerfully recommend your Cooling Room to any parties whose business requires the use of Cold Storage. Yours respectfully,
KENT CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION,
S. O HATHWAY, Man.

Sylvan City Creamery, Manufacturers of Prime Creamery Butter, Wholesale Dealers in Dairy Butter and Eggs.
Port Huron, Mich., October 15th, 1888.
JACKSON REFRIGERATOR Co., CHICAGO ILL.:
Gentlemen: In reply to yours of the 13th inst. will say that our Cold Storage building erected by you gives us the very best of satisfaction, both in the storing of Eggs and Butter and also perishable goods of every description, and we can heartily recommend it to any one needing such a building. It is the wonderment of every one in this section of the country.
Yours truly,
SYLVAN CITY CREAMERY, S. P. S.

Office E. D. Tuttle, Buyer of Produce, Butter, Cheese, Eggs and Meats.
Hornellsville, N. Y., October 17th, 1888.
JACKSON REFRIGERATOR Co., CHICAGO, ILLS.
Dear Sirs: I have used one of your Refrigerators for two seasons and am well pleased with the results. I have kept eggs six months and taken them out in fine condition. Butter, if put in good condition, will keep a year. As to storing fruit, it is a perfect success. I now have evergreen sweet corn that has been in six weeks, and I think it is as good as when it was put in. Respectfully
E. D. TUTTLE.

Marvin & Cammack, Proprietors of the Cresent Creameries, and Jobbers of Butter, Cheese and Eggs.
St Paul, Minn., Nov 3d, 1888.
JACKSON REFRIGERATOR Co., CHICAGO, ILL.
Gentlemen: This is to certify that we have been using a 40 car load refrigerator store house refrigerated on the Jackson plan for the past three years, with exceedingly satisfactory results. We have been able to carry eggs in this storage from May until January or February of the winter following in perfect condition. These eggs being packed in new white wood cases, with excelsior packing, and the cases are not moved or disturbed from May until such a time as the eggs are required for use in the fall or the winter. June butter has kept in this storage in perfect condition nearly a year, and we carried a barrel of potatoes in one of the rooms two years without any loss from decay, and at the end of this time the potatoes were as firm and perfect as when placed in the storage. The storage is easily managed and is fairly economical in its consumption of ice, and the ventilation and dryness seem perfect.
Very Respectfully, MARVIN & CAMMACK.

Elkland Creamery, B. H. Parkhurst, Proprietor.
Elkland Pa., October 19th, 1888.
THE JACKSON REFRIGERATOR Co., CHICAGO, Ill.
Gentlemen: The Cold Storage Building I commenced last spring was completed and filled with ice in May. I use it in connection with my creamery for storing butter, and can show June butter apparently as fresh as when it was put in. I also put in a crate of eggs during the summer as an experiment; I examined them recently and found they were keeping perfectly. The room is dry and cold, and with only the warm air flues open, had no trouble to keep it at a temperature of 35 to 38 degrees during the warmest weather. Your plan is a success and I do not know where it could be in any way improved. Yours truly,
B. H. PARKHURST.

HALSTEAD IS REJECTED.

THE SENATE REFUSES TO CONFIRM HIS NOMINATION.

Little Prospect of a Reconsideration—Appointments For the Indian Territory — Capital Gossip.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Murat Halstead's nomination for Minister to Germany was rejected by the Senate Thursday. The vote was 27 nays to 16 yeas. The actual test of strength was 26 to 17, for Senator Sherman changed his vote from the affirmative to the negative in order to move a reconsideration. The Republican Senators who voted against confirmation were Cullom of Illinois, Plumb and Ingalls of Kansas, Teller of Colorado, and Stewart of Nevada. It was also stated that Senator Hale of Maine vetoed and spoke against confirmation. No Democratic Senator voted for it. Senator Sherman reported the nomination favorably from the foreign relations committee and called it up for action. He was surprised when the vote of Republican Senators began to be recorded in the negative, and his motion to reconsider was the first hint that some of the Senators had that Halstead was knocked out.

MURAT HALSTEAD.

The talk was bitter. Senator Teller led off with a savage attack on Halstead for his criticism of public men and his subsequent retractions. The Cincinnati editor's attack on a dozen or more Republican Senators because of their action in the Payne election case was also the text for most of the remarks. Senators Plumb and Ingalls followed in the same vein and denounced Mr. Halstead as unfit to represent the United States in any position of trust. The burden of the defense fell on Senator Sherman, who made the best he could of the case. Ad adjournment was had before the vote on reconsideration was taken. In the debate there was a great deal said about Halstead's attacks on Gen. Logan, and this had more to do with the rejection than any other one circumstance.

After the adjournment of the Senate several Republican Senators who had voted for confirmation went to the White House and urged President Harrison to withdraw Halstead's nomination. He promised to consider their request. Halstead's friends who have heard from him say that he will not allow his name to be withdrawn, but will go down with colors flying. Efforts are being made to get some Democratic votes for Halstead, but they do not promise to be successful. The President is also being urged to make it a personal matter with the Republican Senators, but he can hardly afford to do this. It now looks as though the rejection cannot be reconsidered. This is the first of President Harrison's nominations to be rejected, and the action of the Senate has caused an uneasy feeling.

Before reaching Mr. Halstead's case the nomination of John C. New to be Consul General to London and Lewis Wolfley to be Governor of Arizona, which were pending, were confirmed. A final attempt of opposition to defeat Mr. New's confirmation was based upon the assertion that his paper, the Indianapolis Journal, had published articles reflecting upon the private character of President Cleveland. This charge was warmely denied by Senator Voorhees of Indiana and the nomination was confirmed.

In Open Session.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—In the absence of the chaplain, the business of the Senate was entered upon without the usual prayer.

Mr. Manderson offered a resolution, which went over, instructing the committee on contingent expenses to take such steps in connection with the architect of the capitol as may be necessary to help the ventilation of the Senate chamber and of the Senate wing.

Mr. Sherman offered a resolution (which also went over) for the appointment of a committee of two Senators to wait upon the President and inquire if he has any other business to lay before the Senate.

Mr. Cockrell from the select committee to inquire into methods of business in the executive departments of the government made a second and final report, and made a statement in regard to the work of the committee and to the condition of the business in some branches of the public service.

THE COMING CENTENNIAL.

The President Asked to Issue a Proclamation for Thanksgiving Services.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The New York centennial committee has sent the following telegram to the President:

"The committee on the centennial celebration of the inauguration of George Washington as President of the United States respectfully asks that you issue a proclamation calling upon clergymen to hold a special service of thanksgiving in the churches throughout the country at 9 o'clock on the morning of April 30, the same hour in which services of prayer were held in the churches of this city on the morning of Washington's inauguration 100 years ago. The clergymen of New York, through a special committee, have issued an address to the clergymen of the United States, suggesting that religious services be held similar to the services on April 30, 1789. Our committee would respectfully ask you, inasmuch as the day is a national holiday, to suggest in your proclamation that the day be made memorable throughout the United States by the decoration of buildings, the display of fireworks, and the meeting of patriotic citizens."

The Senate has adopted a resolution accepting the invitation to participate in the centennial ceremonies at New York, and providing for the appointment of seven Senators to represent the Senate on that occasion.

Appointments Among the Indians.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The President sent the following nominations to the Senate Thursday:

Cassius M. Barnes, of Arkansas, to be Receiver of public moneys at Guthrie, Ind. T.

John I. Dille, of Indiana, to be Register of the Land office at Guthrie, Ind. T.

Charles E. Monteim, of Idaho, to be agent for the Indians of the Nez Perces Agency in Idaho.

Postmasters—Orlando B. Happy, at Mayfield, Ky.; William Jenney, at Mount Clemens, Mich.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker has appointed J. P. Lindsay of St. Louis and Norman Perkins of St. Paul, Minn., superintendents of the railway mail service.

Chief Clerk of the Pension Bureau.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—A. W. Fisher of North Carolina, present assistant chief clerk of the pension bureau, has been appointed chief clerk, vice W. F. Brock, resigned. Mr. Fisher is a Republican, and served as chief clerk under Commissioner Dudley.

CLARKSON ON APPOINTMENTS.

He Gives His Reasons for the Removal of Fourth-Class Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Gen. Clarkson, the First Assistant Postmaster-General, was questioned to-day concerning certain newspaper criticisms directed against his policy in the appointment of fourth-class postmasters. In answer he said that practically all of the changes thus far have been made for other than political reasons. A large number of the appointments made during the last administration were notoriously bad, a considerable number had been found to be delinquent in their accounts, other changes had been made in order to secure better locations for the offices, and in many cases appointments had been made with a view to the removal of the offices from the vicinity of saloons. In every case of removal there had been good and sufficient cause therefor.

"Perhaps," he added, "it is not generally known that my predecessor, within the month or six weeks prior to March 4, made over a thousand appointments of fourth-class postmasters for the purpose, apparently, of forcing them upon this administration. The commissions of the thousand appointees of my predecessor were, of course, withheld and these vacancies, with others, are now being filled as rapidly as possible."

General Gossip.

Secretary Windom has directed the removal of Richard Lancaster, surveyor of the port of St. Louis, and has recommended James O. Churchill for appointment as Lancaster's successor.

Cramp & Sons, the contractors for the Yorktown, believe that they are entitled to nearly $40,000, being the premium on each unit of excess of independent horse power called for in their contract.

The Senate referred the question of its right to elect a president pro tem. to act during its pleasure to the committee on privileges and elections, thus deferring a settlement of the matter until the next session.

MR. LINCOLN IS UNDECIDED.

He Has Not Made Up His Mind About His Appointment.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Robert T. Lincoln, next United States minister to Great Britain if he wants to be, sat in his easy chair in his office in the Honore building smoking a fine Havana when a press representative called on him. He was surrounded by congratulatory telegrams from friends throughout the country, and a stream of acquaintances reaching to the elevator were waiting to extend their congratulations. Altogether to-day was a very busy one for Mr. Lincoln. The gentleman was not reticent about talking, but the announcement that he had been selected by the President to take one of the biggest prizes in the diplomatic service had been such a surprise to him that he could make up his mind in a day as to what he intended to do.

"I have received no official information as yet in regard to my nomination," said Mr. Lincoln, "and probably shall not for a day or two."

"Will you accept the position if you are confirmed by the Senate?" was asked.

"Well, I can't decide yet," he replied. "I shall have to look into my business affairs and see what I can do. The appointment was something unlooked for, and coming as it does I can not tell at present what I shall do."

Mr. Lincoln does not say that he will not accept the mission, and from what can be learned from his friends he has pretty nearly made up his mind to be Mr. Phelps' successor.

Gov. Beaver Says Armes Is Crazy.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 29. — Gov. Beaver, who arrived home last night, said that Armes, who tried to assault him in Washington yesterday, was crazy. He added: "I passed him in the office and he said something concerning his treatment on inauguration day. I told him I was not responsible for his removal from the line and did not know it till afterward. As I passed on I saw him reach for me and I turned quickly. I was afraid he had a pistol and would shoot me. He had threatened to shoot Gen. Hastings, and I didn't know what he might do. As I saw his hand go up I struck at him. I struck twice because I wanted him to know that he must quit that sort of thing. I then went to my carriage and when I returned in the evening I learned that there was considerable excitement over it."

The "Q" to Reduce Wages.

GALESBURG, Ill., March 29.—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad company will reduce hours of labor of shop men, bridge men, and carpenters after April 1 from ten to eight hours, with a proportionate cut in wages. This affects 500 employes here. The wages of at least two hundred will be reduced from $1.15 to 95 cents a day. Some are inclined to be gloomy and talk of seeking work elsewhere, but the majority prefer the reduction to discharge.

Iowa Roads Retaliate.

MASON CITY, Iowa, March 28.—The railroads in Iowa, to force the repeal of the inter-state commerce law, are making arrangements to reduce their passenger trains and to run only mixed trains. The Central Iowa will take off two passenger trains Monday and run their two remaining trains as mixed trains. Railroad men say the other roads will do the same early in April.

Ready to Move on Oklahoma.

DENVER, Col., March 29.—Throngs of people anxious to go to Oklahoma have enrolled their names at the company's office to-day. One colony of fifty railroad employes have joined. It is thought that 250 people will leave with the first band on next Saturday night and more will follow as fast as they can make arrangements to leave.

Will Try to Capture the American Cup.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The Evening World's Glasgow correspondent cables that he has learned on reliable authority that Lord Dunraven has issued a challenge for a yacht race for the American cup, and is having a new 60-foot yacht built for the purpose and designed by Watson. The race is expected to take place in New York in October.

State Board of Agriculture.

PEORIA, March 29.—The State Board of Agriculture was here Thursday. In the morning, in company with a local committee, they inspected the grounds, with which they are highly pleased. Before they adjourn they will complete the State Fair preliminaries.

Considering Immigration.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The Trunk Line commission is holding a meeting to-day in the office of Pool Commissioner Fink. The emigrant business will be among the subjects brought up for discussion.

THE MILWAUKEE ENCAMPMENT

The Railroads Agree to the Desired Reductions for Veterans' Tickets.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 29.—The conference between the railroad officials and the committee representing the Grand Army of the Republic encampment committee resulted in a decided victory for the friends of the veterans. President Roswell Miller of the St. Paul road, who had pledged his word that the St. Paul would under no circumstances yield, as it could not afford to haul the veterans from Chicago to Milwaukee for a cent less than the figures he had announced, gracefully descended from his perch and agreed to knock off 85 cents a head on every passenger carried during the week of the big encampment. This will make it one fare for the round trip between Milwaukee and Chicago. The members of the committee were greatly astonished and pleased at the sudden backdown of the railroads, and came out of the conference with smiling faces and bearing a written communication submitted by President Miller and Mr. Thrall, the representative of the Northwestern road.

At the encampment council a report was presented explaining the offer of the roads and the report was received by the council with applause, and it was ordered that it be at once forwarded to the commander-in-chief, Congressman Warner. The council decided not to formally accept the proposition of the railroads relative to one fare for the round trip, but left the matter for the commander-in-chief to pass upon first.

AFFAIRS ACROSS THE SEA.

CASSAGNAC STIRS UP THE FRENCH DEPUTIES.

Gladstone to Deliver an Eulogy Over Bright—More Arrests of Nihilists —Old World Affairs.

PARIS, March 29.—A perfect storm was raised in the Chamber of Deputies over a proposition to offer money prizes to competitors for designs of a monument to the heroes of the French revolution. Paul de Cassagnac indulged in one of his most sarcastic and bitter philippics. Alluding to Danton, he called him a rascally villain and wound up his speech by saying that republics could build monuments if they wished without levying tribute upon the taxpayers, who were always the victims of revolutions.

PAUL DE CASSAGNAC.

GLADSTONE TO EULOGIZE BRIGHT.

The Ex-Premier to Deliver an Address in the House of Commons.

LONDON, March 29.—Mr. Gladstone returned last night from Scotland, where he has buried his brother, to pronounce a eulogy over the remains of John Bright, who until recent years had been his close friend and associate for half a lifetime. Mr. Gladstone shows no sign of fatigue as the result of his tedious journey, and it is expected that his eulogy on Mr. Bright in the House of Commons will be one of the masterful efforts of his life. Not a seat will be empty on the floor of the House, and the application for admission to the galleries is so great that not a tenth of those desirous of attending can be accommodated. In the House of Peers last evening Lord Salisbury pronounced a eulogy upon Mr. Bright. He paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the dead man, who he said was the greatest master of English oratory of the present generation. "He possessed," said he, "a singular rectitude of character and inspired his fellows to pure patriotism."

Base Ballists Coming Home.

QUEENSTOWN, March 29.—The American base ball teams sailed for New York Thursday on the White Star steamer Adriatic. Thousands of friends gathered on the quays and in the streets to see them depart. There was great cheering and hearty farewells were shouted as they went aboard the tender and as the latter steamed out to the Adriatic. The players were all in good health and spirits, and are delighted with their warm reception in Ireland.

Pleased with Lincoln's Nomination.

LONDON, March 29.—A dispatch announcing that President Harrison had nominated Robert T. Lincoln as American minister to England was read at a dinner given last evening by Earl Cowper. Viscount Cranborne, son of Lord Salisbury, immediately hurried to Arlington street and imparted the information to his father. The Prime Minister said that the nomination was a pleasant surprise for him.

Suicide of a Belgian Merchant Prince.

ANTWERP, March 29.—Ferdinand Vandertaelen, a merchant prince of this city, committed suicide yesterday. The act was due to the failure of several allied firms whose liabilities will probably reach a colossal sum. Mr. Vandertaelen was a leading member of the Liberal party, and has been nicknamed the John Bright of Belgium.

Rioting in a Church in Rome.

ROME, March 29.—While Cardinal Agostino was preaching yesterday several persons took offense at his remarks and disturbed the services by insulting the prelate. Others attempted to eject the disturbers, and a riot followed within the church, which was only ended by the appearance of the police.

Alleged Nihilists Arrested.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 29.—Arrests of Nihilists who are supposed to have been implicated in the attempt upon the life of the Czar continue to be made. A large number were arrested at Zurich, chiefly among Southern Jews.

OBITUARY.

End of Dean Howard of McGill University—Other Deaths.

MONTREAL, Canada, March 28.—Dr. R. P. Howard, dean of the faculty of medicine of the McGill university, died this morning. He was secretary of the Montreal general hospital for thirty years and was instrumental is getting Sir George Stephen and Sir Donald Smith to give $1,000,000 each to found the Royal Victoria hospital in commemoration of the Queen's jubilee. Had he survived until the laying of the corner stone he would have been knighted. He was one of the vice-presidents of the Associated American Physicians.

Other deaths reported are: At Preble, Portland county, New York, Richard Hiscock, father of United States Senator Hiscock, aged 91; at Albany, N. Y., Dr. John Swinburne, the eminent surgeon; at London, Lord Fraser, Judge of the Outer House of the Scotch Court of Sessions.

Thomas Keegan of Juniata township, Pennsylvania, was buried. He lived to be 108 years old. He carried a pike in the Irish rebellion of 1798, and came to this country seventy-five years ago. His first vote was for Andrew Jackson and his last for Cleveland.

Susan Young, a native of Denmark, and for twenty-eight years an inmate of the county poorhouse, died at Rockford, Ill., aged 105.

More Fighting in Hayti.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The big Solario, which arrived this morning from Hayti, reports: "We left Port-au-Prince on March 10. On that day the city was very excited over the news that Legitime's gunboats were bombarning Gonalves. Three of the gunboats—the Belize, the Dessalines, and Toussaint l'Overture—were said to be doing terrible damage. The bombarding had been going on for some hours, and it was thought that the town would be entirely destroyed."

Reports of several decisive battles were brought by the German steamship Prins Hans Frederick from Port-au-Prince. Minister Preston has not returned from Washington, where, is said, he is endeavoring to get an interview with the Secretary of State.

The Cleveland Party Coming Home.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 29.—The Cleveland party arrived at Tampa this afternoon. All are greatly pleased with their visit to Havana. They visited the new hotel at Tampa and then drove out to Ybor City, where immense cigar factories are located. From there they took a special train for Sanford and Orlando, where they will stop over a short time, proceeding to Jupiter inlet to-morrow.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

OVER-WORK.

Office of the High Court of Illinois Catholic Order Forresters, 126 and 128 Washington Street.
CHICAGO, Oct. 11th, 1887.

REV. E. KOENIG: Dear Sir:—I deem it a duty I owe you to certify to the good effect the taking of your medicine had on my health. I was troubled with nervousness brought on by overwork. Your Nerve Tonic almost immediately stopped that peculiar tremor that I presume, is evidence of nervousness. I am now well. My head troubled me, could not sleep, head hot, dreams of accidents, etc. One spoonful of your medicine removed the cause of my dreams; have not had them since; took seven or eight bottles of your medicine. Keep some in my house; always take some occasionally; would not be without it; have recommended it to my friends. If I am not mistaken your medicine will prove a great blessing to this over-worked nation. Yours truly,

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity, of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

Sessions of the Illinois and Wisconsin Solons.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 29.—Mr. Crawford's primary election bill was taken up by a special order of the Senate this morning and read a second time. Amendments offered by Mr. Crawford were adopted providing that only registered voters shall vote at primary elections, and that the polls at such elections shall be kept open from 1 o'clock to 7 o'clock p. m. Senator Evans introduced the following resolution, which was adopted by a rising vote:

"Whereas, The pleasing intelligence is transmitted from Washington that the President of the United States has selected for the responsible position of envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the court of St. James—the leading diplomatic court of the civilized world—the Hon. Robert Todd Lincoln, a native-born Illinoisan, late Secretary of War; therefore be it

"Resolved, By the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring herein, that we, the Senators and Representatives of the people of the State of Illinois without respect to any party affiliations, do most heartily and cheerfully indorse the wise and able selection of Robert Todd Lincoln for minister to England.

"Resolved, That the Secretary of the State be, and he is hereby instructed to have suitably engrossed to transmit to the Hon. James G. Blaine, Secretary of State of the general government, a copy of this preamble and resolution."

The bill providing that all but three trustees of educational institutions may be non-residents of the State was made a special order for next Wednesday.

A number of bills were read a second time and ordered to third reading with very few amendments and the Senate adjourned.

In the House the Senate general appropriation bill came over immediately after the meeting and was read a first time and referred to the committee on appropriations. Mr. White, the chairman of the committee, explained to the House that the Senate measure was almost identical to the House bill, which was a special order for the day, and that both bills ought to be concurred in at the same time. He, therefore, moved that the consideration of the general appropriation bill be postponed for one week. This was adopted by acclamation.

Mr. Fisher's bill, providing that any surplus remaining in the hands of county treasurers after the payment of bonded indebtedness shall be returned to the respective townships, was read a third time and passed with the emergency clause. Mr. Craft's bill amending the law in regard to non-residents of the State holding the office of trustee in institutions of learning was passed with the emergency clause.

The Senate concurrent resolution approving the appointment of Robert T. Lincoln as Minister to England came over from the Senate, and the rules were suspended for its consideration. The resolution was adopted by a rising vote, about a dozen Democrats, however, refusing to vote for its concurring.

The "Valued Policy" bill came up on third reading, and after an hour's discussion was passed by a vote of 90 to 32.

Mr. Wisner was knocked out for the third time with his pool bill. While Speaker Matthews was in the chair Mr. Wisner endeavored to get his measure back from the table. After some parleying the Speaker indicated to him that there were two ways in which he could reach his point. One was to move a reconsideration of the approval of the journal of Friday; the other was to move to put the bill on the calendar. The Speaker said he thought the latter course was preferable, because it was bad business to meddle with the record of proceedings when there was no flagrant or fatal error. Mr. Wisner could not take this broad hint, however, and moved to reconsider the approval. He was defeated, of course, because he did not get two-thirds in its favor, while the other motion could have carried by a mere majority.

WISCONSIN SOLONS.

Rapidly Clearing Up the Bills on the Calendar.

MADISON, Wis., March 29.—The House passed the Senate bill allowing circuit judges $400 a year for expenses, and bills creating a fund for public libraries, allowing women to insure their husbands' lives, and to purchase United States flags for the public schools. In the Senate the anti-trust bill was ordered to a third reading, and bills were concurred in making it felony to assault guards in the Milwaukee house of correction; relating to proof of title; to regulate the drawing of juries; to give county judges discretionary power in preserving testimony relating to the fees of court commissioners; to make principal contractors liable for liens against subcontractors to the amount of indebtedness of the former to the latter. The Senate was notified of the visit of the Lieutenant-Governor and six Senators from Minnesota, and proper steps were taken for their reception.

The investigation of the State printing matter is being pushed rapidly, the committee holding daily sessions.

No Choice in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 29.—The joint assembly took a ballot for United States Senator at noon to-day. It resulted as follows: Dixon, 41; Wetmore, 31; Arnold (Dem.), 16; Colt, 5; Goddard, 4; Durfee, 5; Taft, 1. On the completion of the ballot the assembly, by a close vote, adjourned until to-morrow.

REJECTED THE AGREEMENT.

The Northern Pacific Makes a New Proposition to the Wisconsin Central.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The executive committee of the Northern Pacific railroad has rejected the proposition for a traffic agreement with the Wisconsin Central and adopted a new one, which was forwarded to the executive officers of the two companies to be further changed. The committee then adjourned to meet again next week. It is said that the new proposition is entirely different from the one first made, and that if any agreement is made with the Wisconsin Central it will be just as beneficial to the Northern Pacific as the Wisconsin Central, and not one-sided. It is also officially said that any agreement reached will be of such character as to meet the approbation of the Northern Pacific's competitors.

Arrest of a Bogus Coin-Plater.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 29.—L. S. Brown, a pensioner of the United States and a silver plater by trade, was arrested to-day in the act of casting spurious coin. He had been plating the bogus money thinly and sending it East to be "shoved." Twenty spurious dollars were found on his person.

The Reciprocity Wrecking Bill Defeated

OTTAWA, Ont., March 29.—Kirkpatrick's reciprocity bill in regard to wrecking privileges, which passed the Commons by a big majority, was defeated in the Senate this afternoon.

KING MILAN'S CAREER.

HIS COWARDLY ABDICATION OF HIS THRONE.

He Virtually Surrenders His Son to His Enemies—International Complications Very Probable.

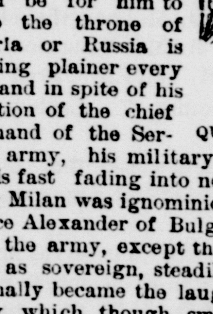

King Milan, of Servia, has wound up a singularly turgid, riblad, shameless and erotic reign by an exhibition of rank and slippery cowardice. After tormenting Europe for years with his enigmatical vagaries he has capped the climax of his crimes by rendering up his 13-year-old son to his enemies. There is no luck in thirteen. The ex-King's most cogent reason for abdicating his throne would seem to be that his back hair was falling out. He withstood the proddings of Austria, the affronts of Russia, the antagonism of his people, the sarcasm of the Queen, whom he had put from him and the gibes and jeers of all Europe; but when his hair grew thin it was too much.

KING MILAN.

He wrote to a friend in Vienna: "Nobody knows what I suffer. I have turned gray and my hair is parting from me. I suffer terribly from nervousness." The question was whether the King should stand by his son and lose his hair, or renounce his son and kingdom so as to retain his hirsute thatch. Milan deserted his country at a critical hour. Russia's victory is notable and distinct. Alexander of Bulgaria went first, and now it is the King of Servia. The next victim of the implacable and tireless diplomacy of St. Petersburg will be King Charles of Roumania. For years the life of King Milan has been one of profligacy and violent excesses. He shared with Prince Rudolph the honor of being among the most dissolute men in Europe, and the violent death of the Crown Prince of Austria at the culmination of a career of debauchery undoubtedly affected the King of Servia. Milan leaves his throne to go off with the heavy-featured, but majestic-looking Mme. Christich. She has a lot of money from her father, who is a banker in Constantinople. The pair will settle down in Greece. There is a Mr. Christich, but he is of a shadowy, nebulous and misty character, and that part of him which has a tangible existence, is understood to be quite ready for a divorce.

The jubilant feeling aroused by the abdication of King Milan has not only not yet subsided in Belgrade, but is spreading throughout Servia. No one who has not traveled through Servia within the last two years can estimate the measure of detestation in which Milan was held by the masses, and consequently the secret joy at his virtual overthrow can not be conceived. The fact is that it would be impossible for him to return to the throne, except by the force of some great power as it would be for him to usurp the throne of Austria or Russia is growing plainer every day, and in spite of his retention of the chief command of the Servian army, his military power and prestige is fast fading into nothingness. Since King Milan was ignominiously thrashed by Prince Alexander of Bulgaria his influence over the army, except that which he exercised as sovereign, steadily declined until he finally became the laughing stock of an army which, though small in numbers, is too brave to be led by a poltroon. It is predicted in the continental capitals and here as well that, although Milan is recognized as the commander-in-chief of the Servian army, he will never be permitted to lead the Servian soldiers into battle, and indeed it is well understood that it would not be safe for him to do so. Four-fifths of the Servian soldiers are pro-Russian, and not one of them has forgotten the outrageous treatment which Milan visited upon his wife, a Russian lady. M. Ristics, the head of the Servian board of regents, hates Milan as he does a snake, and at the same time he is credited with having a greater love for Queen Natalie than one man should have for another man's wife. It has been Natalie's ambition to see her son seated upon the throne of Servia, and it will be strange, indeed, now that he is enthroned, if she does not soon find her way back to Belgrade supported by M. Ristics' influence, if not by Russian bayonets. In spite of the fact that Roumania has been conspicuously friendly to Russia, it has been observed that since the abdication of King Milan Russian agents have been very active in Bucharest. Already threats have been made to blow up the Chamber of Deputies, and it is said that several high officials of the Government have been approached by the Russian emissaries with a view of securing a definite Russian domination of the councils.

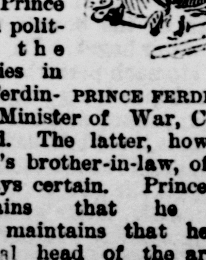

QUEEN NATALIE.

The overthrow of King Milan, for such his situation really is, is regarded in diplomatic circles as a severe blow to Austrian aspirations in the Balkans and may possibly lead to a war between Russia and Austria. The radical party in Servia, under the leadership of MM. Gruitch and Ristics, are in favor of drawing closer to Russia and were warm supporters of Queen Natalie through all her troubles with her husband. To win them over King Milan undertook the revision of the constitution, many important changes being effected therein. Individual liberty and freedom of the press were guaranteed; all religious sects were placed on a footing of equality; the suffrage was extended to all men paying 15 francs a year in taxes; and all classes of the community were made eligible for election as deputies, only a fourth of the chamber to consist of ex-officio members.

The King, however, still retained the right of declaring peace and war and the power of proroguing and summoning the skuptschina. Milan's Austrian views did not suit the radicals, and they demanded a further amendment of the constitution permitting the chamber to meet independently of the royal pleasure, and vesting the representatives of the people with the power of declaring peace and war. There was not the least chance of the revision committee advising such a sudden and revolutionary change, but, unfortunate for Austria, Milan's difficulties with his wife caused him to be regarded by his subjects with a sentiment of very ill-disguised and very well-deserved contempt. Consequently at the recent election the radicals were returned with a fair working majority. Milan would have abdicated then but for the want of sufficient means to support something approaching royal state in private life. But the King was poor and dared not ask the Servian people for a substantial retiring allowance, so he chose the only alternative and knocked under to the radicals. The revised constitution was then subjected to a further revision on radical lines and the situation temporarily patched up. Finally MM. Gruitch and Ristics conclude to grant Milan an allowance out of the state treasury so that he might leave the country, as a longer stay might provoke disturbances throughout Servia and precipitate action on the part of both Russia and Austria by compelling both powers to support their own party in Servia.

The political outlook in Bulgaria is also about as black as possible. The relations between M. Stambouloff, the Prime Minister, and Prince Ferdinand have become so strained that either the one or the other must go, and either event would be favorable to Russian interests in the Balkans. Both M. Stambouloff and the Prince are pro-Austrian politically, but the estrangement lies in the fact that Ferdinand desires the Minister of War, Col. Mitkuroff, removed. The latter, however, is M. Stambouloff's brother-in-law, of whose vote he is always certain. Prince Ferdinand complains that he is a nonentity and maintains that he ought to be the actual head of the army, instead of being ... only ... one. M. Stambouloff's party has a large majority in the Sobranje and the prime minister declines to accede to the Prince's request. However, the persecution to which M. Stambouloff, the "Kingmaker," subjected Major Popoff, one of the best Bulgarian officers and one of the heroes of the Servian war, has engendered feeling of deep irritation throughout the country against the premier, which may result in his overthrow. If some means of extrication are not speedily devised for a way out of the difficulty between the Prince and his minister, the consequences will be very important. The present situation in Roumania is similar to that of Servia. Pro-Russian and anti-Russian lines are so sharply drawn that the pro-Russians, who are in the majority, may at any moment compel King Charles to abdicate, while the state of politics in Hungaria only invites Russian ascendency and shows the weakness of the triple alliance.

STREET-CAR LOCOMOTIVE.

Several Cities to Adopt the Invention of a Wisconsin Man.

On a track in the shop yards at Pullman, Ill., the other day a little locomotive was running up and down, while a party of men interested in street railways looked on with many expressions of admiration. The locomotive is one invented by Mr. T. T. Prosser of Palmyra, Wis., and manufactured in that town. The locomotive resembles an open street car, the boiler and furnace being in the center inclosed in asbestos and wood. By Mr. Prosser's improvements on the old system the steam after being used is condensed in a low-pressure boiler or reservoir, and, as heated water, is returned to the boiler above. The air used in this condensing process becomes heated and passes on to the furnace of the steam-generating boiler. In this way there is a great saving of fuel and the boiler seldom ever needs refilling. By Prosser's system the smoke is entirely consumed and the usual noise of the exhaust steam is done away with. The furnace will not need refilling more than once in six hours, and does not need stoking while in operation.

PROSSER'S STREET-CAR LOCOMOTIVE.

Prosser's method of construction has a number of advantages. A flexible wheelbase permits the locomotive to run smoothly around curves and over rough tracks. It has two four-wheeled trucks and two cylinders to each truck. There is no perceptible jar in starting or stopping, and it runs both ways. There are a great many other points of excellence which have been recognized by experts in steam machinery. Steps have already been taken to place the Prosser locomotives upon the street car lines of Boston, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth.

Terrible Forewarnings.

Cough in the morning, hurried or difficult breathing, raising phlegm, tightness in the chest, quickened pulse, chilliness in the evening or sweats at night, all or any of these things are the first stages of consumption. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for consumption will cure these fearful symptoms, and is sold under a positive guarantee by Prentice & Evenson, druggists.

OUR LITTLE SON,

Four years old, afflicted with a painful skin disease. Six doctors tried to cure him and failed. Got worse. Completely cured by one set of Cuticura Remedies, costing $1.75.

Our little son will be four years of age on the 25th inst. In May, 1885, he was attacked with a very painful breaking out of the skin. We called in a physician, who treated him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the treatment, as the breaking out, supposed by the physician to be hives in an aggravated form, became larger, in blotches and more and more distressing. We were frequently obliged to get up in the night and rub him with soda in water, strong liniments, etc. Finally, we called other physicians, until no less than six had attempted to cure him, all alike failing, and the child steadily getting worse, until about the 20th of last July, when we began to give him Cuticura Resolvent internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and by the last of August he was so nearly well that we gave him only one dose of the Resolvent about every second day for about ten days longer, and he has never been troubled since with the horrible malady. In all we used less than one-half of a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a little less than one box of Cuticura, and only one cake of Cuticura Soap.

SCROFULOUS HUMORS.

Last spring I was very sick, being covered with some kind of scrofula. The doctors could not help me. I was advised to try the Cuticura Resolvent. I did so, and in a day I grew better and better, until I am as well as ever. I thank you for it very much, and would like to have it told to the public.
EDW. HOFMANN, North Attleboro, Mass.

Cuticura, the great skin cure, and Cuticura Soap prepared from it externally, and Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood purifier, internally, are a positive cure for every form of skin and blood diseases from pimples to scrofula.

Sold everywhere. Price, Cuticura, 50.; Soap 25c.; Resolvent $1. Prepared by the Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston, Mass.

Choking Catarrh

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensation of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you not ced the langor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catharral matter? What a depressed influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of Sanford's Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references.

Each packet contains one bottle of the Radical cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and an Improved Inhaler with treatise and directions, and is sold by the all druggists for $1.

TO MONTANA, OREGON AND WASHINGTON.

If you are going west bear in mind the following facts: The Northern Pacific Railroad owns and operates 987 miles, or 57 per cent. of the entire railroad mileage of Montana; spans the territory with its main lines from east to west; is the short line to Helena; the only Pullman and dining car line to Butte, and is the only line that reaches Miles City, Billings, Bozeman, Missoula, the Yellowstone National Park and, in fact, nine tenths of the cities and points of interest in the territory.

The Northern Pacific owns and operates 621 miles or 56 per cent of the railroad mileage of Washington, its main line extending from the Idaho line via Spokane Falls, Cheney, Sprague Yakima and Ellensburg, through the center of the territory to Tacoma and Seattle and from Tacoma to Portland. No other transcontinental through rail line reaches any portion of Washington Territory. Ten days stop over privileges are given on Northern Pacific second class tickets at Spokane Falls and all points west, thus affording intending settlers an excellent opportunity to see the entire territory without incurring the expense of paying local fares from point to point.

The Northern Pacific is the shortest route from St. Paul to Tacoma by 207 miles; to Seattle by 177 miles, and to Portland by 324 miles—time correspondingly shorter, varying from one to two days, according to destination. No other line from St. Paul or Minneapolis runs through passenger cars of any kind into Idaho, Oregon or Washington.

In addition to being the only rail line to Spokane Falls, Tacoma and Seattle, the Northern Pacific reaches all the principal points in Northern Minnesota and Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Bear in mind that the Northern Pacific and Shasta line is the scenic route to all points in California.

Send for illustrated pamphlets, maps, and books giving you valuable information in reference to the country traversed by this great line from St. Paul, Minneapolis Duluth and Ashland to Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma and Seattle, Washington Territory, and enclose stamps for the new 1889 Rand McNally County map of Washington Territory printed in colors. BRIEFLETS.

—Last snow of the season—probably.

—Frank Ruger is out of town on business.

—The politicians are getting in their work.

—St. Patrick's church this evening—Lenten services.

—Smith & Anderson's orchestra plays in Hebron to-night.

—The Assembly entertainment this evening at Court Street church.

—In consequence of the snow storm this morning the street sprinklers took a rest.

—The Ciceronian Club will dance tomorrow evening in Odd Fellows hall.

—Dr. W. H. Judd has a fine new phaeton from the shops of Buchholz & Co.

—What's the matter with James F. Hickey? Echo answers "What you giving us?"

—Messrs. Smith & Pierce have returned from Elkhorn, where they have been on legal business.

—Fred Clemons, I. C. Brownell's chief clerk and right hand man, is taking in the sights at Madison.

—Be sure and hear Florence Dye sing at the Assembly social at Court Street church this evening.

—The circuit court is still engaged in hearing the case of Marsh vs. The Harris Manufacturing Company.

—The Beloit republicans have nominated Hon. David S. Foster for mayor and John A. Love for city clerk.

—Mrs. Sweeney and Mr. E. O. Kimberly will sing at Court Street church this evening at the Assembly social.

—E. B. Heimstreet has returned from Madison, where he has been on business connected with the State Pharmaceutical Association.

—Prof. John Tuckwood will furnish the music for the W. H. Sargent Post, G. A. R. social dance to-morrow evening at Post hall.

—A splendid entertaiment and ice cream and cake which cannot be excelled, at the Assembly social, Court Street church, this evening.

—The friends of Harry Carle will be pleased to know that he has secured a position with a large packing house in Kansas City, at a good salary.

—People's Lodge No. 460, Independent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular weekly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Court Street M. E. block.

—The Richmond Brothers are exhibiting some specimens of electric oil painting about town. They claim it to be a purely mechanical process, of making a very artistic picture.

—Harper's Weekly for the current week, gives a double page illustration of Madison, Wisconsin. The picture hardly does credit to our beautiful capital city yet it is a good advertisement.

—Let's see. Has the Recorder "sat down on any of the democratic aldermanic candidates?" or will it support them "energetically and heartily, for old love's sake?" Did any one speak?

—Alex. Buchholz is getting his steamer, the Enterprise, in readiness for the summer's campaign. Mr. Buchholz will continue to make Crystal Springs the popular picnicing resort that it has been.

—The first cucumbers of the season made their appearance at the store of Tarrant & Osgood this morning. They came all the way from New Orleans, but look as fresh as a June morning.

—George Bates will not attempt to work the "Old Times" racket in his contest for city clerk. His democratic credentials and certificate of good standing in the democratic camp bears quite recent date.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Sykes and son Lawrence, of Pewaukee, Mrs. Sykes' mother, Mrs. S. W. Granger, of Milwaukee, are in the city for a week's visit with Judge and Mrs. John R. Bennett and Mr. Geo. Sykes.

—A rumor was generally circulated on the streets this afternoon that Dr. J. W. St. John had determined to stand by his first decision, formed when the democratic nomination for mayor was first tendered him, that under no circumstances could he accept the nomination.

—Henry Blunk announces himself an independent candidate for street commissioner at Tuesday's election. Mr. Blunk was a prominent candidate before the democratic convention last evening, receiving thirty-six votes on the formal ballot to his successful competitor's thirty-nine.

—As has been frequently remarked, the case of the city of Janesville against Joseph Bleasdale, came up before Judge Patterson to-day. A jury was empanneled this afternoon and proceeded at once to view the premises in question. The jury had not returned at three o'clock.

—The Razzle Dazzle Euchre Club met last evening with Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Murdock. Mr. Lee Wilcox and Mrs. Charles Myers carried of the first prizes, and Mr. and Mrs. Franck Strickler succeeding in carring off the booby prize which was a Chinese doll. Verily "the Chinese must go."

—Miss Lizzie Palmer, of the fourth ward, entertained a party of friends last evening, invited in honor of the birthday of Miss Florence Dye. Miss Dye's birthday comes to-day, but the company was invited last evening; so the party after partaking of refreshments, waited until after midnight to wish Miss Dye many happy returns of the day.

—Mayor Winans was clearly right last night, in presenting Dr. St. John's name to the democratic convention for mayor, when he said:—"This is a republican city," and he should have added that no democrat was ever elected to office in this city except by republican votes. This is not a democratic year; therefore, the republicans will cast their votes for their regular nominee.

—One enthusiastic admirer of Dr. St John came very near losing $50 last night. Just before the assembling of the democratic conclave at the council chamber, he offered to wager that amount that the doctor would not, under any circumstance, be a candidate. One fellow offered to cover the money, but on counting out the filthy lucre he was a little short, and concluded that it was too risky business betting on democratic candidates this year.

—Beloit Citizen: Manager Wilson has made arrangements with the Northwestern Road, through the kindness of Gen-accommodate the Janesville people who wish to attend Roland Reed on Saturday night. They can leave Janesville at 7:20, arriving in Beloit about 8:00 o'clock, returning at 10:45. The sale of tickets for this entertainment is already large, and a good house is assured. It is highly recommended. Mr. Reid will present "The Woman Hater."

—Mr. John Sheehy died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Richard Davey, in the first ward last Wednesday evening. Deceased was well known in this city. He returned here from Dakota last fall, and had been in poor health ever since. At the time of his death he was thirty-nine years old, and unmarried. Dropsy of the heart was the cause of his death. His father arrived here from Waupun, and a brother is expected this evening from Dakota. The remains will be taken to Waupun for burial to-morrow.

—The Recorder appears to be terribly worried concerning the Miner bill transferring the power to grant licenses to the judge of the municipal court. To quiet the fears of our esteemed morning contemporary, the Gazette will state that the miner bill is dead—dead because Mr. Miner knocked it in the head; therefore, it is harmless, and will hurt no one. Probably, if our esteemed contemporary would know more about the origin of this dead measure (which was calculated to remove the saloons from the council chamber), it would find that more than one prominent democrat was enthusiastic for this same bill to become a law. Go ahead with your flings at Assemblyman Miner.

—A government counterfeit detective is now making a tour of the west. He says there is a large quantity of counterfeit silver certificates circulating in Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, and Missouri; that Missouri is flooded with $1 counterfeit certificates and that the same state is filled with counterfeit $5 gold pieces which are heavily plated. He said that it was only by the closest scrutiny that the character of the $1 counterfeit could be detected. The counterfeiters, he says, are reaping a rich harvest. The $5 counterfeits are well executed, but the work is coarser than the genuine and a comparison with a good certificate will readily show the difference.

LA PRAIRIE HORSEMEN.

THE LAPRAIRIE HORSE COMPANY INCORPORATED.

The LaPrairie Horse Company held their first meeting since their incorporation, at the court house yesterday afternoon. Several new names were added to the list of stock holders, and the corporation starts off with an enthusiasm which foretells its success.

The company elected the following officers:

President, Robert Pollock; vice president, M. H. Curtis; treasurer, William Howard, secretary, James Haviland, M. Gleasen, S. Van Galder, J. P. Thomas, Homer Paul, and Norman Parker were elected a Board of Directors. Better selections for these offices could not have been made. The capital stock of the company is $2000.00, twenty-five per cent. of which was paid in yesterday.

The company has purchased one of Bowles, Hadden & Company's finest stallions, and propose to do all in their power to advance the grade of stock in Rock county.

OBITUARY.

MRS. ROBERT CADWELL.

Death has come to the home of Robert Cadwell and taken away the young wife and mother. At eleven o'clock this morning Mrs. Etola Cadwell breathed her last, after but a short illness. Mrs. Cadwell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William White, of the town of Harmony, who with her husband and infant child are left to mourn her death. She was a woman whose presence make home cheery and brighter, and whose wish always was to make some one happier. Her death saddens the home which she has left but the sadness is tempered with the glad thought that she has entered into her heavenly rest.

No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

"SMITH! SMITH!! SMITH!!!"

WHO IS D. P. SMITH, THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR?

The name is so uncommon that some people are found asking the above question. Daniel P. Smith, familiarly known as Dan Smith, was a railroad engineer on the Chicago & Northwestern Railway for years, with headquarters in Janesville. A dozen years ago or more he engaged in the safety lamp business with Mr. James Harris, and later was interested in the Janesville Barbed Wire Company. For the past two years he has been alderman of the first ward. After Tuesday next he will be known as Mayor D. P. Smith. Daniel of old entertained the lyons and won the day. Daniel P. Smith will entertain the modern democrady, led by as good a man as St. John, the apostle of Bourbon faith, with the same result as his illustrious predecessor.

Vote for Dan P. Smith.

AN EDGERTON PROPHETESS.

SHE INFORMED RELATIVES OF THE EXACT SPOT IN THE RIVER WHERE MALONE'S BODY COULD BE FOUND.

The Edgerton Reporter of this week is responsible for the following:

'The discovery of the body of Patrick Malone in the river at Janesville last week, confirms the suspicions that we have a prophetess in this city that pointed out the exact spot in the river, several weeks ago, where his body was to be found. The story is that soon after. Malone became missing in December last Mrs. E. St. John, of this city, was informed of the occurrence by a woman who was visiting at Johnstown, where Malone left his home. The St. John woman, who has something of a reputation for fortune telling, proceeded at once to unravel the mystery throught a secret she claims to possess, and told her informant that Malone had been drowned and just where the body lay. This information was confided to Malone's friends, who sent for Mrs. St. John to come to Janesville, where she fixed the place in the river where the body could be found, but as the river was frozen at that time no effort was made to recover it. She says she was paid five dollars for making the trip and revealing her information. Now it is said that the place where this woman told three months ago Malone could be found, is the exact spot where the body arose from the water last week.

THE FIRE POLICE PATROL.

THE CONTRACT FOR BUILDING THE NEW WAGON LET TO THE EMPIRE CROSS SPRING COMPANY.

The committee of the Janesville Fire Police Co., appointed to procure horses, wagon and the necessary apparatus to thoroughly equip the company in accordance with the new arrangements, this morning awarded the contract for building the patrol wagon to the Empire Cross Spring Company, of this city. The wagon will be built according to the specifications furnished by the committee, and will include all the modern improvements in such vehicles, and is to be of the best material and workmanship. The wagon is to be ready for delivery in six weeks. Mr. John W. Richardson, manager of the Cross Spring Co., says he will make the boys a dandy wagon, one that he can refer to as a specimen of the work turned out of the Empire Cross Spring Co's shops.

The horses for service in the Fire Police Co. have been purchased, being the span of grays formerly owned by Mr. Reed, of LaPrairie. The horses are yet in Mr. Reed's possession, he to care for them until the company is ready to place them in the service of the fire department.

The swinging harness—duplicates of the harness now in use in the department—have been ordered from St. Louis and will be here by the time the wagon is completed.

The committee will now turn their attention to purchasing the necessary paraphernalia to equip the company for service. It is estimated that the company will be compelled to expend in the neghborhood of fifteen hundred dollars the first year to procure and maintain this patrol. Some people who are not thoroughly posted in regard to the services rendered by the Fire Police Co., question the policy of such an innovation at this time, but its utility may soon be tested, and should it prove a failure, no one except the members of the company will be out of pocket so far as dollars and cents are concerned.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 26 degrees above zero. Snowing with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 30 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with north wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 35 and 40 degrees above zero.

Mr. Sewall Makes a Ten-Strike.

A traveling representative, learning that Mr. George W. Sewall, of Auburn Park, Ill., had held a lucky number in the last drawing of of the Louisiana State Lottery, interviewed that gentleman. It was found that Mr. Sewall held one-tenth of ticket No. 40,789, which drew the second capital prize of $100,000 in the company's drawing of January 15. Mr. Sewall said: "I was asked incidentally by a friend to purchase a ticket in this drawing. I did so, paying one dollar for the same and gave the matter no further thought until, to my great surprise, I was notified that my ticket had drawn a prize. I received my money through the Adams Express company, five days after the date of the drawing. The $10,000 was handed me without question and without the slightest inconvenience or annoyance to me. The one dollar which I paid for the ticket is the first and only money I have ever invested in the lottery.

Mr. Sewell has already invested the proceeds of his lucky draw in Cook county, (Ill.) bonds, an investment which is regarded as perfectly safe, and which will bring him a comfortable income.—Chicago, Ill., Arkansas Traveler, Feb. 9.

THE CITY DEMOCRACY.

They Assemble in Convention and Select Candidates for City Offices.

The Ticket as Finally Agreed to After Considerable Fine Work.

For Mayor—J. W. ST. JOHN.
For City Clerk—GEO. H. BATES.
For Justice of the Peace—M. S. PRICHARD.
For Street Commissioner—P. W. RYAN.
For Sealer of Weights and Measures—EDGAR Richardson.
For School Commissioner at Large—HORACE McELROY.

The democratic city convention was held at the council chamber last evening. The convention was called to meet at 7:30 o'clock, but it was not until after 8 o'clock that the delegates were called to order.

Several self appointed committees had waited on Dr. J. W. St. John to prevail upon him to lead the forlorn hope, but he steadily refused. and finally one of the fifth ward delegates brought what was supposed to be the last word from the doctor, it being—"Under no possible circumstances will I accept the nomination." Then there was a hurried consultation.

Ald. Baker, of the first ward, began to loom up as the coming man, and had the body been called to time he would have been unanimously nominated.

Mayor Winans was on hand as a delegate from the third ward, and took in the political situation.

Hurriedly a committee of several of the most prominent members was commissioned to hasten to Dr. St. John's office and insist that he accept the leadership.

The committee started out on their missionary work.

They returned.

A. O. Wilson, chairman of the city committee, called the convention to order, when, on motion of Hon. John Winans, A. O. Wilson was elected permanent chairman.

On motion of J. B. McLean, Geo. H. Bates was elected secretary.

The secretary read a list of delegates—the same as published for the several wards in the Gazette of last evening—and on motion of A. M. Valentine the names of the persons whose names were on the list were admitted as delegates.

Each ward delegation was authorized to fill vacancies in their respective delegations.

On motion of J. B. McLean the chair appointed Messrs. A. M. Valentine, D. C. Ward, George M. McKey, Fred C. Burpee, and Thomas B. Leahey as tellers.

The chair here announced that nominations for a candidate for mayor would be in order.

Hon. John Winans addressed the chair and in a very pointed little speech presented the name of Dr. J. W. St. John as a candidate for the first place on the ticket. Mayor Winans moved that Dr. St. John be nominated by acclamation and the motion was unanimously adopted

George M. McKey moved that James F. Hickey be nominated for the office of city clerk by acclamation. Adopted.

On motion of John R. Ryan, Moses S. Prichard was nominated for the office of justice of the peace by acclamation.

On motion of John Baker, Horace McElroy was nominated for the office of school commissioner at large by acclamation.

A. M. Valentine moved that an informal ballot be taken for a candidate for street commissioner.

Mayor Winans moved as an amendment that the ballot be formal rather than informal. Adopted.

The original motion as amended was then adopted.

The ballot resulted as follows:

Henry Blunk	32
John R. Ryan	8
P. W. Ryan	34
Total	74

John R. Ryan withdrew his name as candidate.

The second ballot resulted as follows:

P. W. Ryan	39
Henry Blunk	36
Total	75

Mr. P. W. Ryan having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared duly nominated for the office of street commissioner.

On motion of J. Fred Hutchinson, Mr. Edgar Richardson was nominated to the office of sealer of weights and measures, by acclamation.

On motion the chair appointed the following city committee:

At Large—William Smith.
First ward—J. P. Baker.
Second ward—J. H. Burns.
Third ward—John Winans.
Fourth ward—O. P. Robinson.
Fifth ward—Thos. B. Leahy.

A motion had been made to adjourn, when James F. Hickey, the candidate for city clerk, addressed the chair. He thanked his friends for nominating him for the position, but he must decline to run. This announcement was received with considerable surprise, but Mr. Hickey was firm in his determination not to accept.

J. B. McLean did not believe in forcing anybody to run. Everybody knew his own business best. If Mr. Hickey did not want to run and would not go in and work he was in favor of making some other nomination.

On motion of J. P. Baker the declination of Mr. Hickey, as a candidate for city clerk, was accepted.

John R. Ryan moved that George H. Bates be nominated for city clerk by acclamation. Adopted unanimously.

On motion the convention adjourned.

Expand the Mind.

By seeing as much as you can of the world. But ere you set out either as a tourist, commercial traveler or emigrant—whether you go by rail, steamship or steamboat, provide yourself with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which the traveling public recognize as the finest medical safeguard and preventitive of sea sickness with which any one journeying by land or water can be provided. It furnishes to the western pioneer adequate protection against malaria, rheumatism, and those disorders of the bowels which miasma tainted water beget. Its sedative effect upon a stomach perturbed by the rocking of a ship is truly magical, and it is a capital appetizer and nerve invigorator. Excellent is it for biliousness and kidney inaction, and it counteracts, in a remarkable degree, the effects of fatigue, physical or mental. After wetting and exposure in inclement weather, it should be used as a preventive.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for coughs and colds does is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

WAITED TOO LONG.

A Death in St. Louis Recalls a Romance of the Early Petroleum Era.

The death in this city of James S. McCray, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, recalls a remarkable incident in the petroleum romance. Franklin is the county seat of Venango county, through which flows the Oil creek along whose banks occurred the great oil excitement. James McCray was a Venango county farmer whose farm, 150 acres, was situated on the top of a hill near Petroleum Center. He had been a wood-chopper and a mill-hand and after a time bought a team of horses. With his team he made some money hauling in the lumber woods and then bought the farm referred to.

He was to pay $2,000 for it, but it was several years before he had it free of incumbrances. During the first oil excitement on the creek no one thought of going on the hills to find oil and the McCray farm was passed by unnoticed. In 1876 the seekers after oil began to double on their track, and Keefer & Watson struck a well on the Dalzell lands, adjoining McCray's that flowed 400 barrels a day. Oil was worth $3 a barrel, and later the price advanced to $5 a barrel. Big wells were soon opened up on the McCray farm, and for the acreage it proved to be the most prolific oil farm ever developed. For the privilege of welling on his farm McCray received $1,000 an acre bonus and half the oil.

Wells were put down in rapid succession until the output of the farm was 2,700 barrels a day. Oil was then $5 a barrel and as half the production of the farm belonged to McCray it made his income nearly $5 a minute, night and day. For the farm, for which he paid $2,000, he was offered $500,000, but would not take it. Operators and sight-seers flocked to the farm by hundreds, and McCray's children, with a keen commercial instinct, set up an apple stand on the road leading up the hillside to the farm to turn an honest penny in the traffic of fruit gathered from the orchard.

At the time of this wonderful development McCray's hilltop farm yielded the largest revenue ever received by a single firm from the production of petroleum. From a humble farmer McCray became one of the bonanza kings of oil regions. He did not sell his oil as fast as produced, but erected immense iron tanks in which to hold it for a still higher price. He built and filled tanks until he had 150,000 barrels stored. For this oil he was offered $500,000 cash, but he would not accept it.

He was holding it, he said, for an even $5 a barrel. There came a panic in the market, and oil dropped to $3 a barrel, then to $2. His tanks got to leaking and a large amount of the oil ran into the creek. Lightning struck some of the tanks and they drowned with their contents. He held what was left of his oil for years and finally closed out the mere remnant that was left of his rich holdings at $1 a barrel, realizing a few thousand dollars instead of $500,000.

A Business-Like Offer.

For many years the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have offered, in good faith, $500 reward for a case of Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by Druggists at only 50 cents. This wonderful remedy has fairly attained a world-wide reputation. If you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; if the eyes are weak, watery and inflamed; if there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from the ulcers; the voice being changed and has a nasal twang; the breath offensive; smell and taste impaired; sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility, you are suffering from nasal catarrh. The more complicated your disease, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians.

FOOD FOR REFLECTION.

The New York World of February 9th, says:

"The question as to how much of what they pretend to know doctors really know is a very interesting one.

"They possess exceptionally great facilities for humbugging, and the presumption is that they are not proof in most cases, at all times at least, against temptation to make use of them. Their profession comes as near being an esoteric one as any that is acknowledged to be respectable. But the revelation as to their views in the Robinson arsenical poisoning cases in Boston is startling.

"There were five deaths from the drug, and the doctors in their certificates attributed them respectively to pneumonia, typhoid fever, menigitis, bowel disease and bright's disease of the kidneys. The truth would never have been known but for suspicions with which the doctors had nothing to do. There is food here for reflection—and for doctors."

The above criticism is only warranted by the startling ignorance shown by the attending physicians in the Somerville cases.

It may be aptly said that human life is too often sacrificed to the ignorance and bigotry of the profession.

Too often it happens that fatal results follow an improper course of treatment—the physician treats the patient for consumption, general debility or for nervous disorders, whilst the real disease, which is slowly destroying the kidneys and filling the system with a poison quite as deadly as arsenic, is altogether overlooked or does not attract attention until too late.

Physicians too often treat the symptoms of disease instead of the disease itself.

It is well established that four-fifths of the ordinary ills which beset humanity are the results of disease in the kidneys which will yield to the curative properties of Warner's Safe Cure if timely used, and to it alone. What is apparently a disease in the other organs is more oftentimes a mere symptom of kidney disease, which should be quickly eradicated by Warner's Safe Cure before it secures too firm a hold on those organs.

THE MICROBE OF T[illegible]ET.

Something, the Discovery of Which, Will Work a Mechanical Revolution.

With all the paraphernalia of the modern physical and electrical laboratory, the instrument of precision that will handle a millionth of an inch as readily as a laborer his pick and shovel; with all the evolution going on through generations of scientists, and the almost incessant wrestling of secrets from the bosom of human nature, we doubt if science is any closer to the isolation or attenuation of the microbe of the magnet.

It is absurd to suppose that a primary energy is impressed upon a piece of hardened steel once for all. The transfer of that energy into actual work would quickly destroy the magnetic power, yet such destruction not only does not take place, but the very exercise of the power strengthens the magnet. A horseshoe of steel may be magnetized in ten seconds by the current of a few amperes from the battery, a ridiculously small amount of energy all told, and such magnet can lift many pounds of iron in contact. But without contact it may lift and hold a pound of iron easily. It will hold that pound for an eternity, and the magnet is expending energy, until it foots up an almost inconceivable total of actual power. Not alone that, but the magnet of one pound lifting power to-day may and will be stronger to-morrow. Where does all this really tremendous amount of energy come from? By what inscrutable process does the mere magnetization of a bar of steel make of it a machine for the transformation of energy? Not a reactionary or storage device, which, like a steel spring honestly gives back approximately all it has received, but a perpetual transforming or converting machine. There is a hidden process going on of some kind; energy is going into the magnet all the time it is doing work—energy in some form. Where does it come from—gravity: atmosphere? solar rays? earth currents? Who can say? It is a great problem, worthy of a life-time of indefatigable research. It is a microbe and it will be discovered, and the discovery will make electricity the queen of nature's forces and steam will become a dim vision of the dark ages of the past.
